Family Education Rights and Privacy Act (FERPA)

Annual Notification to Parents Regarding Confidentiality of Scholar Education Records and School Directory Information.

Confidentiality of education records is a right of public-school scholars and their parents. This right is provided for by two federal laws, the Individuals with Disabilities Education Act (IDEA), and the Family Education Rights and Privacy Act (FERPA). Under these laws, "educational records" means those records that are: (1) directly related to a scholar; and (2) maintained by an education agency or institution or by a party acting for the agency or institution. Of course, education records are maintained on every child enrolled in public school. The types of information gathered and maintained includes, but is not limited to: the scholar's and parents' names, address, and telephone number; the scholar's date and place of birth, date of enrollment in the school, records from previous schools attended, attendance record, subjects taken, grades, school activities, assessment results, number of credits earned, immunization records, disciplinary records if any, correspondence from parents, and child find and other screening results, including hearing and vision.

In addition, for children with disabilities, education records could include, among other things, evaluation and testing materials, medical and health information, each annual Individualized Education Program (IEP), notices to parents, notes regarding IEP meetings, parental consent documents, information provided by parents, progress reports, assessment results, materials related to disciplinary actions, and mediation agreements. The information gathered from a number of sources including the scholar's parents and staff of the school attendance. Also, with parental permission, information may be gathered from additional sources including doctors and other health care providers. This information is collected to assure proper identification of a scholar and the scholar's parents and the maintenance of accurate records of the scholar's progress and activities in school. For children with disabilities,
